Definition (Injective function). Let $f: A \to B$ be a function. The function f is injective if, for all $x, x' \in A$ holds: $f(x) = f(x') \implies x = x'$.